THERE IS SOMETHING WRONG.

When the time comes for hard labor, the Negro is alright; when the time comes for voting, the Negro is alright; when the time comes for war, the Negro is alright; But, when the time comes for representation the Negro is all wrong. What is the cause of this? It must be his color, because the law has no color. There should have been at least one Negro selected in District No. 2 to represent his people in the Single Statehood convention at Oklahoma City, July 12, 1905. It is not the intelligent Negro's desire to associate with the white race, but it is his desire to ask for his constitutional rights as a citizen, especially his civil and political rights. The white citizen has not and will not submit to taxation without representation, and why should the colored citizen submit? What is good for the white citizen is good for the black citizen. I sincerely hope that all the people in both territories will be represented in the State Constitutional convention regardless of race or color.

M. A. SORRELL,
Central Committeeman of Vinita.
